Kintyre opens London office

London, 9 September 2016 – Kintyre Investments (“Kintyre”) the Frankfurt Headquartered real estate manager and investor with c. €750 million of assets under management has opened an office in central London, its fourth office and the first outside of Germany. The office will be managed by Managing Director Paul Shiels and is located within the heart of Mayfair on South Molton Street.

Paul co-founded Kintyre in 2009 and is currently a Managing Partner. Paul has 25 years’ experience within the real estate and retail business sectors. He held for instance senior positions within the Bank of Scotland’s private equity arm in the UK.

With their key role as local partners for many international investors, the London office will provide an ideal platform to enhance the services provided to the existing client base and will assist in the growth and attraction of new investors who are looking to obtain a presence within Germany. In addition the office will be utilised to develop and grow the UK business streams for Kintyre as they look to provide advisory and asset management services within the UK residential and commercial markets.

Paul Shiels, Kintyre Investments - Managing Partner said: “The opening of the London office provides Kintyre with the perfect platform to provide an enhanced service to our UK and International partners whilst we seek to continue the growth of our property and asset management platform. The office will also provide the opportunity to develop our business within the UK market”.

Currently Kintyre is actively involved in advising and structuring several potential residential development transactions in UK.
